This paper will share experiences gathered in club activities as well as in celebrating Mathematics Awareness through several years.

In particular the following issues will be addressed:

- Getting faculty members and students involved,
- reaching out to businesses and city officials and
- highlights of activities through the years such as problem solving contests at the university level, T-shirt contest, civic engagement activity, math fairs, math carnivals, “stump the geek” and other student-oriented activities. (Received October 05, 2004)
