We introduce a concept of diagonalization that uses not a basis of eigenvectors, but a frame. A frame is a generalization of a basis which is used in a number of signal and image processing applications. We describe several methods of constructing frames for frame diagonalization and prove a sharp result regarding the minimum size of a frame necessary to frame diagonalize a given matrix. (Received September 21, 2012)