

1116-VL-230

Jeffrey W. Clark* (clarkj@elon.edu). Mentoring Mathematical Programming in Undergraduate Research.

Some undergraduate mathematical research requires programming to implement and develop complicated algorithms or to generate data for hypotheses. This presentation will describe different contexts for programming-based research before describing common problems and solutions in supervising such research. (Received August 15, 2015)