Dina Yagodich* (dyagodich@frederick.edu), Frederick, MD. Sneaking in LaTeX while teaching by modeling.

While doing initial modeling scenarios at the beginning of the semester, I took the opportunity to teach basic LaTeX techniques. Students turned in work using ShareLaTeX, a web site that allows students to share with one collaborator for free. I was able to see their code and make comments to help students master using this important typesetting language. (Received September 11, 2017)
