

1154-03-2399

Jack H. Lutz* (lutz@iastate.edu). Passing Hilbert's Final Test.

We review recent developments in which computability-theoretic dimensions of individual points have been used to answer open questions in classical geometric measure theory, questions whose statements do not involve computability theory or logic. (Received September 17, 2019)