Making the Classroom More Inclusive: Ideas and Strategies.

In this talk, I will outline some ideas and strategies, both specific and general, for making the mathematics classroom more inclusive for LGBTQ+ students. These include helping students communicate their name and pronouns in a confidential way, including inclusive language on handouts and assignments, and advocating for LGBTQ+ students across campus. (Received September 12, 2019)