All the humor and stories shared in this talk have worked on at least one student - me. I will recount the ways in which my teachers used humor and how I continue to use their stories to help my students relax, enjoy, and remember mathematical concepts. Come find out what 50 the cat has in common with calculus concepts! (Received September 17, 2019)