We discuss the dynamic behavior of a nonautonomous difference equation of arbitrary order $m$ that is derived from a discrete model of pulse propagation in a ring of excitable media, such as cardiac tissue. The discussion may include related but more general results where needed and some open problems. (Received September 22, 2005)