
We present an expository account of the development of the theory of binary quadratic forms. Beginning with the formulation of the Two-Square Theorem, we show how the study of the forms of the type $x^2 + ny^2$ led to the discovery of the Quadratic Reciprocity Law, and how this theorem, along with the concept of reduction relates to the representation problem. (Received September 19, 2005)