Analogues of Chebyshev polynomials have been defined as maps $\mathbb{C}^n \to \mathbb{C}^n$ by several authors. Like their single-variable cousins, these maps have interesting algebraic, analytic, and dynamical properties. In this talk we will study recursive formulas for these maps, as well as infinite-dimensional versions. (Received September 20, 2016)