In this paper, the authors study a nonlinear fractional boundary value problem. A method to construct the associated Green’s function as a series of functions is presented. Criteria for the existence and uniqueness of positive solutions are then established based on it. (Received September 12, 2016)