In the Fall of 2005, Collin County Community College offered the Learning Community "Chances in Life: A Quantitative Approach to Biology" for the first time. The Learning Community combines the Introductory Statistics course with General Biology I. This Fall, "Chances in Life" made for the third consecutive year in a row. This talk will give a brief overview of the Learning Communities program at CCC, discuss the development of the "Chances in Life" Learning Community, and report any findings/observations based on our experiences teaching the Learning Community for the past three years.
